STATEMENT OF PRACTICE

In the Coven of the Whispering Witch we worship the Old Gods and Goddesses that include but are not limited to: Odin and Frigga, Freya, Hekate, Persephone and Hades, Zeus and Hera. Our coven is not specific to one Deity or theology, we are an eclectic group of Witches each a practitioner of Witchcraft that worship multiple Goddesses and Gods or a Universal Source.

We celebrate all eight Sabbats and four esbats (including the rite of Her Sacred Fires each May by the female members of our group, thus the male members formally celebrate only three full moons.) per year. We celebrate with formal (ceremonial) rituals for adults only or open ritual (to family and community.)

At present (April 16, 2023) We meet formally once a month and informally in smaller groups three additional times per month making our group a weekly Coven. We also offer one monthly activity for the children in the group which is centered around the appropriate Sabbat or pagan topic.

The Coven Whispering Witch was founded in 2006 by Lady Leolyn Suzanna, Lady Tamia Rosemoon and Kamariah and has remained a practicing coven from that time to this, led by Lady Leolyn. Lady Leolyn has been a self-proclaimed Witch since 1998. She trained in the Firefly Academy and earned her ordination through the Firefly Church. She also studied extensively within the Temple of Standing Stones and the coven Stone Hearth lead by Conon and Paula Brewer whose roots reach back to Serpent Stone which was organized in 1991. Lady Leolyn continues to learn by attending seminars, classes, events and conventions through real and virtual methods. She also teaches seminars and classes, and at events and one day... conventions.

While we are an eclectic group we do loosely fit within the Wiccan religion as we adhere to the Wiccan Rede and follow the inter-traditional guidelines for our educational programs. I/We pledge to abide by COG's Ethics, Charter, Bylaws and policies.

Many thanks and blessings upon you and yours,

Lady Leolyn Suzanna Madigan

LETTER OF RECOMMENDATION #1

Covenant of the Goddess members:

This letter is in support of Whispering Witch Coven's application for membership to Covenant of the Goddess through Hills and Rivers Local Council. The coven's High Priestess Leolyn Madigan has been an active member of the pagan community in western Pennsylvania for several years. Leolyn is a well-qualified High Priestess who has studied and practiced with many notable groups and has been initiated to the third degree by Fire Fly Academy and Church.

Whispering Witch Coven is a thriving group with 11 active members. The coven has been practicing together since 2006 when they originally started in Warren, PA. Now that they are based in Natrona Heights their membership has grown. They follow a Norse centered and Celtic path of witchcraft and follow the Wiccan Rede.

The Whispering Witch Coven has been active in creating community in the region north of Pittsburgh. They have worked with other covens to put on events such as "Pagans in the Park" in Harrison Hills and are planning to reinstitute a previously popular monthly pagan coffee group. I believe Leolyn and the Whispering Witch Coven will be a great addition to Hills and Rivers Local Council. They are interested in becoming involved in our local outreach and will further COG's mission.

I give my enthusiastic support to Whispering Witch Coven as new members of Covenant of the Goddess and Hills and Rivers Local Council.

In Service of the Goddess,

Denise White
Elder Priestess of HearthFire and RiverSong Covens
First Officer, Hills and Rivers Local Council

LETTER OF RECOMMENDATION #2

Hello,

I am Deanne Quarrie, D. Min., high priestess, author and teacher. I am the founder of the Liminal

Theological Seminary and The Apple Branch -A Dianic Tradition. I have served the Goddess as Her priestess since 1986. Leolyn came to the Apple Branch in 2019 as a high priestess of The Coven of the Whispering Witch, but also as a student. She had been trained by Iris Firemoon of the Firefly Academy in Wicca, but she heard the call to Hekate and that is how we met.

Leolyn is a conscientious student and Priestess of Hekate. She has taken classes online with me on three separate occasions, each time giving her best and always building up her knowledge base. She completes things in a timely manner, often going above requirements in her pursuit of more knowledge. I have attended rites and rituals with Leolyn in zoom meetings over the years. She is articulate and pleasant. She is always willing and eager to participate.

The coven of the Whispering Witch has been active since 2006 and is currently a group of eight Witches. They honor both the Goddess and the Old Gods and follow the Wheel of the Year as well as the Wiccan rede. They gather for all Sabbats, assemble twice monthly and two of her coveners attend classes taught by Leolyn weekly. They also have a Pagan Parent and Child day per month where they do family-oriented activities relating to the closest Sabbat or other pagan topic.

In short, this coven is a highly active group of eclectic witches who share the same morals and ethics and beliefs who would represent the Covenant of the Goddess well.

Many blessings.

New Business:

- Hills and Rivers is looking ahead to 2023 and its large annual public festival. Last year it was held in June at Rhoneymeade Sculpture Garden and Arboretum. It is a beautiful location with plenty of room to expand if the event catches on and attendance grows. Last year the attendance was a bit disappointing, but there was a threat of serious thunderstorms and even hail. There was also the State College Pride Weekend that could have been competing with our festival.
- We decided to give Rhoneymeade another try and reserved a date for the last Saturday in July, the 23rd. To make it easier on Hills and Rivers members, especially Jamie who grilled food for attendees, we decided to look into getting a food truck. Denise volunteered to get information on food trucks in the State College area. Kathy will discuss it with Rhoneymeade’s manager, James and see what we needed to do there about having a food truck visit. Holly and Jeff of Golden Wheel may also be able to help by giving recommendations on food trucks they have tried.
- After being disappointed with the hotels we have used in past years, we discussed renting a house in the area. We could hold our annual meeting in the house and eliminate the additional conference room charge. Lauren volunteered to look at AirBNB rentals in the area.
- Another way to reduce costs was to not have speakers visit from out of town. This usually included added expenditures for accommodations and mileage. We would promote speakers from our participating groups Hills and Rivers members and members of Happy Valley Golden Wheel.

- We will ask Jeff about having live music at the event. He is a musician and has played in a pagan band. His group played at the HRLC Lammas Fest 2019, in the Lehigh Valley.
- We decided to hold a raffle once again and have vendors and readers. They will donate to the raffle in addition to paying HRLC for their vending spaces. Last year the cost for a spot was $40. We decided that we could raise the fee to $45 and it would still be considered a very affordable price.
- We decided to name this year's festival Hills and Rivers Lammas Fest to avoid any confusion with the Lammas Fest in Ford City, PA.
- Other possible HRLC events are online Facebook live rituals and/or spell workshops. We could do a few free classes online for publicity. We might try rituals online or maybe a Q&A session, like "Ask a Witch!"
- Council discussion focused future plans for making Lammas Fest a regular event in State College PA and possible expanding into additional projects such as online social media platforms and virtual meetings.
- Our annual council meeting will take place on July 23, 2023 in State College Pa following Lammas Fest on Saturday night.

Member Updates:

- Member covens have continued to hold community rituals, classes, and festivals. Topics discussed at the meeting included our annual Lammas Fest which will be held for the second year at Rhoney Mead in State College Pennsylvania. This festival will include vendors, presenters, and workshops hosted by our members. Council members have volunteered to ensure that the festival can remain free to the public.
- Members Covens in the Pittsburgh area, Hekate's Wheel and Circle of Diana are continuing to provide community education and open ritual for the public. This includes the maintenance of the Wiccan Wisdom Facebook group which has over 12K members.
- Hekate's Wheel hosted a series of 8 Magical seminars for both public and private members that was well attended.
- Member covens in Eastern Pa have continued to offer public rituals and classes in our respective communities.

- Grove of the Ancient River continues to offer public ritual and support their growing community.
- Witches of Aradia supports multiple community projects and organizes the Annual Witches Masquerade Ball in Reading PA which is in its 9th Year.
- Coven of the Wooded Vale continues to offer public ritual for the local community and will be organizing the 7th annual Lehigh Valley Pagan Pride hosted by Hills and Rivers Local Council. They also co-host the Annual Witches Masquerade Ball in Reading PA with Witches of Aradia and Pagan Awareness Coalition.
- Coven of Leita Visindi continues to support local community events with Coven of the Wooded Vale and is expanding this growing coven.

New business:

Introduction of Leolyn, High Priestess of Whispering Winds Coven, a potential new member coven. The coven is located in Natrona Heights, PA. Although the coven is not presently recruiting new members, it has been busy hosting open rituals and attending other groups' events within the local community.

Lady A volunteered write the additional letter of support needed for Whispering Wind's application to CoG.

Discussion of Lammas Fest 2023: This annual public festival was held on July 22, 2023 (11:00am – 5:00pm) at Rhoneymeade Sculpture Garden and Arboretum in Centre Hall, PA. This was our second public festival in this location. The previous one was called Solstice Fest and was held on June 12, 2022.

Like the previous year, Hills and Rivers worked with Happy Valley Golden Wheel, a pagan group in the State College area. They brought members to help set up the tables and tents and a few of their members presented workshops on a variety of interesting subjects. The group is very friendly and helpful and has hosted a number of their rituals and events at Rhoneymeade over the years. They have a strong presence in the region and are associated with the Pagan student group, Silver Circle, at nearby Penn State University.

All at Lammas Fest enjoyed beautiful day—sunny, clear, and with a soft breeze! This was a welcome relief given the uncomfortably warm weather. Rhoneymeade is a lovely location. It is located on a farm with broad fields. There is a small orchard and farmhouse with a variety of trees, a labyrinth, gazebo, studio, and large tents for events. There were six vendors and readers, who were all very nice and sold beautiful products and offered a variety of interesting services. The readers were highly recommended.

Despite the pleasant weather, beautiful location, interesting workshops, and friendly participants, the event was not well attended. Over the day, we had maybe 20 attendees visit that were not associated with Hills and Rivers or Happy Valley Golden Wheel. We were quite disappointed. We had announced the event on Facebook and on both of the Hills and River and the Happy Valley Golden Wheel websites. After some discussion, we thought possibly changing the event time to later in the year might improve attendance. When Penn State is in session, Happy Valley Golden Wheel often teams up with Silver Circle of Penn State for rituals and events. Penn State students may be very interested in attending a larger event with outside speakers and vendors. There was mention of representatives from HRLC co-hosting smaller events at the university to introduce Hills and Rivers to the students and get a better idea of the interest in pagan events at the university.

Even with the valuable help of Happy Golden Wheel, organizing a long-distance event has had its challenges. Faunina has family an hour away and had visited the Rhoneymeade a few times before the event to help coordinate with the even location manager and the leaders of Happy Valley Golden Wheel. These early visits and conversations were a great help, but it is still challenging to host an event that is relatively far away. We have had past events where a coven hosted an event in their own region. The hosting coven was responsible for choosing the location, setting up the event, and arranging the annual meeting. Rhoneymeade, near State College, was chosen as a central location, so coven members would not have to travel so far to HRLC events. State College was around 3 hours driving distance for most HRLC members. While Happy Valley Golden Wheel voiced some interest in joining Hills and Rivers, perhaps as solitary members, that has not happened yet. Without having a member coven in Centre County, it puts a lot of pressure on out-of-town members to pull this together.

We are now wondering what to do for our future events. We are asking ourselves, "Where it should be located? What kind of event to host? Where and when to have our annual meeting? If hosting again in Centre County, should it be when students attend?" Nothing was determined at this meeting. Denise suggested revisiting this when more members are present.

Lady A discussed Pittsburgh Community Days and the history of large pagan events in the area, such as Pittsburgh Pagan Pride Day and more recent Lammas Fest in Ford City.

Business for next meeting (date to be determined). Discussion to determine if we need elections to maintain officers if there are no vacancies? Will postpone discussion of officers to next meeting

Coven updates:

Hekate's Wheel - Lady Annabelle's sister was hospitalized and had to cancel the coven's Lughnasadh event due to that family emergency. The coven did have an outdoor Beltane and Midsummer in a local park. Lady Annabelle attended the recent Pittsburgh Pagan Community Day on September 30 at Velum on Jane Street in the South Side of Pittsburgh. One of the vendors there said that they would assist with Gaia Fest in 2024. Hekate's Wheel are holding a retreat for Samhain in Gibbon Glade, PA. At the retreat, the coven does shadow work and our sabbat ritual. They cook together and have a great social time, too. Hekate's Wheel has been holding coven retreats for 12 years. The coven celebrated its 20th year on Imbolc 2022.

Coven of Leita Visindi - Actively working on teaching and guiding students to be more involved. Currently interviewing prospective new members.

Coven of the Wooded Vale - The coven has continued to host public Sabbat rituals in the Lehigh Valley with the assistance of Coven Leita Visindi. The coven hosted Lehigh Valley Pagan Pride Day on September 30, 2023 with the help of members of Grove of the Ancient River and Coven Leita Visindi. Lehigh Valley Pagan Pride featured special guest JR Mascaro and 5 additional workshops as well as 50 vendors and about 200 attendees over the course of the day. The coven continues to support the local pagan community by offering a public Samhain ritual, and they will be hosting the Witches Masquerade Ball in Reading with Pagan Awareness Coalition on November 4, 2023.

HearthFire Coven - Along with new sister coven RiverSong offered an open Lughnasadh ritual at a park in Fayette County. RiverSong Coven applied for CoG membership in September. RiverSong is offering the Philosophy and Magick class at OMBody starting in October.

Grove of the Ancient River - The coven continues to host public rites at their local Unitarian Universalist Church. They also will be hosting their second annual masquerade ball on October, 29, 2023.

Circle of Diana - The coven continues to meet for sabbats at their covenstead. They are planning to do public meet and greets in the future to start recruiting new members. The coven has received several inquiries about new members. The coven sisters thought a casual meeting would be a good way to start public outreach.

Witches of Aradia - The coven continues to hold weekly classes at Moon Raven Alley, a local metaphysical shop in Mount Joy, PA. They meet for all Sabbats and Esbats. They had two new people join since the last report making them a coven of 10 witches.

Recorder – Morgana: The Minutes of the October OCLC meeting were approved in November and sent to the COG Newsletter for publication. The Newsletter acknowledged receipt on November 10th, so they should appear in the Yule issue.

After the OCLC Psychic Faire, there were 25 unclaimed prizes after the drawing at the end of the day. I am in the process of notifying the 12 winners (yes, there were people who won multiples). Someone named "Kim" won FIVE prizes! Unfortunately, Kim did not write an email or phone number on the ticket, so I am unable to contact them directly. The Council discussed new options for the prize drawings. We could divide the prizes in sections and then there is a drawing for one section at a specific time and so on. We don't need to use the cups anymore. Mary will talk to Alexis to find out how the vendors felt about sharing the venue with the Faire, with the idea that we could do that again in June. Lilith mentioned that she was able to contact Kim who said she would pick up her wins before Xmas.

Governing Board Representative Report

- Janine/Rev Dee: Next meeting will be on January 7, 2024. It will be a Governing Board only meeting. See the Yule Newsletter for a full report.

Old Business:

Public event in 2024 - possible collaboration with COMPASS. Location still needed; Eisenhower Park still a possibility. Mary checked with a shop in Whittier, but it's concrete, so unsuitable for this event.

New Business:

Mary suggested forming a committee to work on the Marketing Plan. Janine suggested everyone take a look at her Plan first and then we can accept volunteers at the next meeting.

Mary will do the invocation next time.
